YOUR BIKE HAS BEEN GRADED

GOOD

- Front wheel secured
- Rear wheel secured
- Your wheels are not quick release
- Locked tightly to rack reducing ability to use lever action to break the lock
- Using a 'Sold Secure' rated strong D-lock or chain
- Using more than one lock
- Registered with a police-recognised marking scheme

BAD

- Only the frame is locked – bicycle frame can be used as lever to break the lock
- Only the wheel is locked – the rest of the bike can easily be stolen
- Lock or chain is touching the ground and can be broken with a chisel
- Your lock can be easily cut – use a stronger 'Sold Secure' rated D-lock or chain
- Beware locking to a signpost – bicycle can be lifted over the top by thieves
- Beware locking to one rail only – lock through several for more security
- Your bike is potentially causing an obstruction
- Your bike could fall over and get damaged
